

Student feedback (MIS 111 Summer 2016)

What did you especially like about the way this instructor taught the course?

He was very passionate about this course and was always able to provide real world examples for the topics we were discussing.

Very interactive with students. Student driven discussion and engagement.

He honestly wants students to learn the material, and is passionate about it.

The instructor is enthusiastic about the material. He relates the content with real world examples. He tries to get all students involved during the class. Readily makes himself available for questions or clarification at all times.

This instructor inspired interest in the course by how passionate he was about teaching the course. His PowerPoints were very helpful and the fact he posted them on Blackboard helped students in a major way with tests and homework. He was very thorough and tested us on knowledge of the topic that he knew he taught and went over.

He made sure everyone understood every topic. I liked that there was room for student input throughout the course.

His freedom and openness of knowledge. He gave a lot of examples to help us understanding

I enjoyed the manner in which the instructor was approachable and handled every question you brought forward to him with high regard, to not only answer it but also make sure you truly understand.

What did you especially like about this course?

I really enjoyed how proactive the professor was as well as how tried to inspire interest amongst the students. It made the lecturers much more enjoyable and interesting

This course inspired interest in the subject field and helped students learn about Management Information Systems, even if they had little to know idea about the topic. The course inspires interest in itself and can relate to everyday activities of a student.

What was expected for particular grades is clear. The opportunity for extra credit at the beginning of the course which would help further experience and knowledge relating to the class.

I liked that the professor was always available to assist all students and he encouraged everyone to ask questions when we didn't understand a topic.

This instructor was amazing and has me really exited for my experience at Eller College. He cared about his students and talked with his students if they needed help. He was very organized and was armed with a massive amount of knowledge on the topic and was very fair to students in class. I am very happy that I was able to have Karthik Srinivasan as an instructor.

Karthik did a great job motivating us to think bigger in regards to technology

The assignments and news articles were really useful in helping to understand the material being taught.

the teacher is super helpful very nice and helps a lot

I enjoyed learning about the internet through a more in depth perspective, and learning about about cyber security.

committed to his students success
